Sales at the Stock Exchange, Feb. 13. For the New-York Tribune. DREAMS. BY AUGUSTUS SNODGRASS. OUR Life is but a changing dream Which flies like Morning's golden beam, When backwardly we gaze, But that which comes we ever see Filled with a deep reality, And bright and lengthy days. Youth marks the world with laughing eyes, And sees but rainbows in the skies, Beneath whose arches fair Angels look out with flashing wings And shake their radiant offerings Upon the golden air! Manhood beholds with sterner soul, Yet through the clouds which round bim roll, He sees a rising star, Pillowed on gold which moves along With gleaming light and kindling song, And points his path afar. We shun the earnestness of Life-Its rugged paths and restless strife, And dream what yet shall be; For none so wearied are and poor, But witness happier days in store, Public Stock Exchange, Feb. 13.

Our night-dreams are but wand'rings vain, When Reason hath unloosed her reign, And sleeps in calm repose; Our day-dreams transiently fulfil Our longing Hope and earnest Will, And shades for Truth disclose. Thus I have wished, till Hope hath brought Its golden visions to my Thought, And glowing scenes unfurled; Where I in realms of bliss forgot The varied sternness of my lot And blest the laughing World! Profaned the calm and simple hearts

Of those who strove to find,

By earnest Toil and virtuous Deed

And blissfulness of Mind!

Then Life moved on in tranquil hours,

And on whose waves of light, The blushing rose-leaves dance in glee

By Morning and by Night!

And I, how blest! forgot that Time

Had yet a hill my feet must climb, Rough with the wrecks of years,

Or falter, bathed in tears!

May not my dream yet truthful be,

And Life yet kindly smile on me,

A star of light above, Whilst thou and I shall fondly prove

READ WHAT SHERMAN'S LOZENGES HAVE DONE.-Mr. DAY, boot maker, No. 20 Tillary street, Brooklyn, suffered greatly for eighteen months with emaciation, depirity, sickness of the stomach neglected almost every kind of food, except sugar. He had been attended by rarious physicians and for two months by the professors of the University, and all to no purpose.

On reading Dr. Sherman's Book descriptive of the symptoms of worms he thought they met his case; so he purchased a nox of Sherman's Worm Lozenges. A few doses brought away, as he judged, about two quarts of worms, and entirely cured him. A multitude of similar cases might be mentioned where children and adults had suffered all but death from ed where children and adults had suffered all but death from worms, and nothing gave relief but Sherman's Lozenges.
Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Whooping Cough, and even Consumption, are all sooner cured by Sherman's Cough Lozenges than any other known remedy. They allay the tickling in a few seconds, gid enable those afflicted with the most her rassing coughs to sleep whole nights. The Rev. Dr. Dunbar, Rev. Mr. DeForest, Rev. Dr. Eastmond and hundreds of thousands can attest to their happy virtues as others can to the efficacy of Sherman's Cough Lozenges, for headache, palpitation, lowness of spirits, sea sickness and lassitude, from bodily or mental exertions, and for the wonderful properties of Sherman's Poor Man's Plaster, which costs but 124 cents.

Physicians prescribe it to their patients; gentlemen who have experienced its curative effects, gratefully recommend it, ladies have derived the greatest benefit from its exhibition in nervous and other complaints; endeuers are restored to their ampetite; and the weak and feeble center from its exhibition in hervons and other complaints; epictures are restored to their appetite; and the weak and feeble are made strong and vigorous. "Health, the poor man's riches—the rich man's bliss," has, through its influence, been extended to all classes and conditions—mechanics and manufacturers, merchants and bankers, lawyers and divines, philosophers, poets and planters, have all been cured by this medicine, as their certificates and recommendations satisfactorily prove. Yet thousands upon thousands remain who are daily suffering turture, both of mud and body.
